DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE TASKS MORE DIFFICULT

Federal Courts Staggering Under Prohibition Load, Report Says

ASK JAIL SENTENCES

Anti-trust Laws Bring Real Problems to Department

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The Department of Justice daily is finding its task more difficult in keeping pace with the growth of the federal business it must transact and there is urgent need for remedial legislation applicable to various phases of law enforcement. Attorney General Stone declared in his annual report submitted today to Congress.
Federal courts are "staggering under the load imposed on them by prohibition legislation," the report stated, and added that "diverse and complex tax laws" also have increased greatly the burden which the courts must bear. The situation necessarily affects the office of United States attorneys and there is need, the Attorney General said, not only for a greater personnel in those offices but in the salaries paid to them.
While there was a small decrease as compared with the previous year in the number of liquor cases taken into court, the decrease was termed inconsequential and its effect had not been felt in the work of those charged with enforcement. The courts disposed of 45,549 liquor and tax law cases in the year ending last June 30, an increase over the previous year of nearly 4,000. It was stated, and the aggregate amount of fines and forfeitures resulting from these cases was $7,487,000, almost $2,000,000 greater than the previous year.
The Attorney General advocated greater use of the jail sentence as a "real deterrent" for violators of the prohibition laws, based his remarks on a discussion of enforcement by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition and taxation, which was included in the report.
"While the added fines are encouraging as indicating a heavier money punishment, which helps to make the illicit traffic less profitable," Mrs. Willebrandt said, "the real deterrent to this class of violators is the jail sentence. In that respect a great advance has been made, the average jail sentence jumping from 21 to 34 days."
The penalties for violation of the prohibition laws at best are not severe for first offenses, particularly when compared with the penal features of the internal revenue laws which were enacted, the department has been invoking, in such cases as the facts warrants, the use of internal revenue, customs and tariff laws.
Working on Two Problems.
In the division handling anti-trust laws, the department has been engaged in the past year in working mainly toward the solution of two major problems, the report said. One of them has to do with selection of cases for prosecution involving organization of trade associations, and in these it has been found that most of the trade associations are entirely legal and of great value to their members, although others have been found to be in the "twilight zone," while a third group has been found to be entirely outside the law. Final determination of legal points involved in these cases will clarify the law for all, the Attorney General believed.
The second problem involves application of the anti-trust laws to restraint of trade and monopolies based upon the acquisition and pooling of patents. The effort in this phase of the work also has been to obtain cases that "will clarify the law and remove doubt."
Mr. Stone renewed recommendation made by previous Attorneys General for enactment of amendment of many laws to simplify enforcement. He favored this for the reason that many of them yet are subject to judicial construction, and until that is done neither the public nor the department can know definitely the meaning.
There should be statutes, the report declared, making it a crime for a single individual to attempt to commit any crime against the government. He asked for explicit legal authority for the presence of stenographers in grand jury rooms and for amendment to the bankruptcy laws making it a crime to conceal assets involved in bankruptcy proceedings. He also said there should be a federal statute to deal with the crime of assaulting or killing a federal officer and another extending punishment for the sending of letters threatening bodily harm through the United States mails.
Overeating is said to be much more common in the north of England than in the south.

Disease May Claim Koretz for Parole On His Long Term

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Leo Koretz, promoter of Panama oil schemes in which his friends and relatives invested $2,000,000 will be eligible in 11 months to parole from the penitentiary. He was sentenced late yesterday for a term of from one to ten years.
A malignant disease which Chief Justice Hopkins considered in passing sentence, may claim him as its victim before the parole board could consider the case, physicians testimony indicated. Cook county jail officials planned to start with him to the penitentiary at Stateville, Illinois, today.

CAPITAL POLICE DENY CONFESSION

Claim Confession of Tulsa Lad Varies From True Situation

(By the Associated Press)
TULSA, Dec. 5.—Two murder mysteries and one shooting, which have baffled police of both Tulsa and Oklahoma City for sometime were believed to have been solved this morning when Coney Coffey, aged 21 confessed hijacker who already has served one term in the reformatory calmly continued his startling series of confessions begun Thursday after a trial in the complex court.
The first murder to which Coffey confessed was that of Dot Timmons, cashier of the Portland Coffee house here, who was shot to death while riding in an automobile with a salesman in October, 1920. The other was that of Detective Briggs Chumley at Oklahoma City. Coffey declared that he, Babe Welch and a Mexican had attempted a hijacking but that the Mexican shot the officer when cornered. They escaped Coffey said, although Welch later was arrested and is now being held in Oklahoma City as a suspect.
The other shooting was that of a night watchman here. The man is not dangerously injured.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 5.—Police place no credence in the story told at Tulsa by Coney Coffey. They declare that detailed accounts of his statement given them by Tulsa police department revealed serious discrepancies. Coffey was confused as to dates, they said, and they learned from the Tulsa police that his description of the location of the killing was not accurate.

GERMAN SLAYER WELCOMES DEATH

Butcher of Human Bodies Wants to Die Before Christmas

(By the Associated Press)
HANOVER, Germany, Dec. 5.—"I want to be dead before Christmas," insists Fritz Haarman, the Hanover butcher whose trial for the murder of 27 young men since 1918 opened here yesterday.
Haarman, who at the time of his arrest gloated over the murders he had committed, now acts like a man violently insane, jumping about excitedly, tearing his hair and suddenly breaking off in the middle of a sentence apparently losing continuity of thought. He stubbornly declines suggestions from the court that he retire for awhile and try to calm himself, however insisting that the trial be hurried along.
Haarman confessed to the murder of 14 of those he is accused of slaying and agrees with the suggestion that his victims may have exceeded this number. He admits cutting up the bodies and disposing of them, a task which he says usually took him two days, but denies selling the flesh for meat.
Reference to his late father invariably provoked an outburst from the prisoner. "My last word before being beheaded will be a curse upon my father," he cried out on one occasion.
Haarman's alleged chief helper, Hans Crous, denies all charges of complicity in the crimes. One hundred ninety witnesses will be summoned in the course of the trial, it is forecast.
THREE COMMUNISTS KILLED IN FRONTIER OUTBREAK
REVAL, Dec. 5.—Three communists, including ex-Deputy Somerling of the Estonian parliament were killed and three policemen wounded during a night long siege by police of a house in which participants of the recent communist outbreak, had taken refuge.
The house was surrounded last night and firing by both sides lasted until daylight when police effected an entrance.

The Long, Long Trail----To Jail

"Take your time going, but hurry back," a prisoner in the county bastille yelled in the bidding an revoir to 25 federal prisoners destined today for the federal jail at Muskogee and more permanent quarters at Leavenworth.
While his parting remark may have lacked sincerity, it registered a varied response from the line of prisoners condemned to retribution by Federal Judge E. F. Kennamer, whose stern sentences from the bench have characterized the first term of federal court in session here.
Shackled by pairs, the caravan of alleged booze vendors, hooch-makers and in other manner, violators of the laws of the United States marched sullenly down the streets of Ada to the Frisco depot to board a train that would transport them to their prison cells and rob them temporarily of their freedom to further offend or obey the law of the land.
Here and there in the line of march, the penalty of forfeiture of citizenship rested lightly on the shoulders of a shackled member of the caravan, but generally the spirit of hatred or remorse flashed from their eyes to the curious pedestrians who paused to witness their tramp to their temporary doom.
Heading the column of prisoners, R. S. Bailey, federal Marshal of Chickasha, considerably measured his stride to permit easy step for C. V. Paul, sentenced to ten years in the federal prison at Leavenworth for larceny of an interstate shipment, and another prisoner who had been sentenced by Judge Kennamer to 18 months at Leavenworth, whose feet were shackled in chains.
Outside of these two prisoners heading the column of ignoble marchers, the parade included only those who had considered the manufacture or sale of illicit whiskey in violation of the National Prohibition act, an appealing artery of trade, had been sentenced on pro charges by Judge Kennamer.
The list of federal prisoners enroute to Muskogee today included two women, Mrs. Annie High, who was found guilty by a jury early this morning, and another woman, who pleaded guilty on arraignment for the court this morning.
The final caravan of prisoners will leave the county jail here following the wing-up of the first term of federal court here.

AMERICANS SURPRISED

Mellon and Jussarand Talks Considered Informal By Officials

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Dec. 5.—The British government, it was asserted in official quarters today is expected to address a note to American and French governments in the course of next few days requesting those governments to inform Great Britain what steps have been taken or are anticipated in settling the French war debt to the United States.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—London reports that the British government expected to address an inquiry to Washington and Paris asking information regarding the settlement of the French war debt to the United States were received today with marked surprise by officials in close touch with the funding situation.
It was announced authoritatively that no intimation had come from London or from British embassy quarters thus far indicating that the London foreign office proposed to take such a step. It was asserted also that much of the agitation on the part of the London press expressing fear that the French would be accorded with more favorable terms of settlement than has been allowed Great Britain was unfounded.

The conferences held so far between Secretary Mellon and Jules Jusserand, the retiring French Ambassador, it was said, had been confined largely to an exchange of information regarding the attitude of their respective government and had been of purely an informal nature.
It even is the impression in some official quarters that the French government has not empowered its ambassador to attempt any actual negotiations, but rather has instructed him to feel out the Washington government on the question so that upon his return to Paris he can give his successor and French finance officers detailed information which would be of value to them at a later time or when actual negotiations open.

McCLINTOCK FORTUNE MAY BE SPLIT TO RELATIVES

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—The $6,000,000 McClintock fortune, which for years has not been enjoyed long by its possessors, is likely to be divided among distant relatives of the family as the result of the death yesterday of William McClintock who had held it just seven months since he became 21 last April.
There are no relatives on the side of his father who died in 1906 and only distant ones on the side of his mother, who died in 1908.
McClintock died while his fiancée, Miss Isabelle Pope, of Wilmette, his school boy sweetheart, waited with a marriage license to be married to him in the hospital.
Miss Pope was mentioned as a possible beneficiary under the will by Attorney William Shepherd, who drew it up.
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—Charlie Chaplin's 16-year-old bride, formerly Louisa McMurray, met all requirements of the California compulsory school law, it was announced today by Raymond Dunlop, director of the compulsory education department.

ATTENDANCE LARGE AT BOYS' SCHOOL

Moral Heroes Classes in School Swelled By Ada's Boys

Braving the storm and cold, 140 of Ada's boys bled away from the home fires for an hour in comfortable rooms with teachers, song leaders, ministers and pianists who were conducting the Moral Heroes course for the boys of the city.
Every teacher, every minister except one and he was kept away owing to sickness, every song leader and every pianist was present to do their part in this piece of constructive citizenship work for Ada's boys. Singing with great volume, enthusiasm and melody, such songs as "If Jesus goes with me, I go anywhere," "More About Jesus" and "America," these citizens of tomorrow made the schools ring with music. Reverence marked each session as the devotional exercises were held.
Every teacher was extremely well satisfied with the results of the evening work. One prominent citizen who leads the singing at one of the schools said, "This is the great work for Ada's boys."
Washington School won the Eskimo pies. Judson Treadwell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, told the Willard boys that he would give each boy who brought a new boy, a Hershey chocolate. Hot chocolate will be served in each building at each school, Washington School, 36; Willard School, 33; Irving School, 29; Glenwood School, 21; Aand Hayes School, 21. Total 140 boys. William Penn will be Moral Hero for study tonight.
BARTLESVILLE, Dec. 5.—Company C, 100th Infantry, Bartlesville's national guard unit, has been disbanded. Failure to recruit a full quota for the company was the reason for the dissolution.

TWO MEET DEATH FOR SLAYING OF OFFICER IN ARMY

Mortimer King and Harrell Put to Death in South Carolina

MURDERED MAJOR

Search for Body of Slain Major Aroused Much Interest

(By the Associated Press)
COLUMBIA, Dec. 5.—Mortimer M. King of Canton, N. C., and Frank Harrell of Union county, S. C., were electrocuted at the state penitentiary here shortly after 6 o'clock this morning for the murder of Major Samuel H. McLeary just off the Raleigh-Columbia highway, July 2, last.

Both had confessed to having formed a plot to rob a passing tourist which resulted in the death of the major after he had given them a ride in his automobile.
Although King had confessed to firing the fatal shots, Harrell was the first to be electrocuted. King was seated in the chair 16 minutes later.

Each of the doomed men substantiated his confession to the robbery before he died, although Harrell maintained that his complicity did not warrant his being given the death penalty.

During what is said to have been one of the most widespread searches for a missing United States army officer in recent years, Mortimer M. King and Frank, alias Sherrod, Harrell, young cotton mill workers were charged with the murder of Major Samuel H. McLeary, who was killed by two men July 2, on the roadside 11 miles south of Cheraw, S. C.

Shortly after the army officer had dropped from sight, authorities of both the Carolinas were notified by the war department to be on the watch for him. No suspicion of foul play was aroused, however, until the major failed to call for money wired to a hotel in Columbia from Raleigh, N. C. At first it was thought he had suffered a mental aberration, and his wife joined in this theory.

Traced by the major's automobile, which he and his accomplice had driven away from the scene of the killing, King was arrested two weeks later at his Canton, N. C., home. It was then that the remains of the murdered officer were located, King directing the officers across the South Carolina line to a spot a short distance from the highway where the body had been left.

King confessed on July 16, implicating Harrell, for whom a search was instigated. Harrell and his brother, Gerald, were arrested in Nashville, Tenn., on a charge of vagrancy, the night of July 22. No importance was attached to the arrest by the Nashville officials until the following morning, when a circular sent out by the state of South Carolina describing Frank Harrell was received. Harrell's identification resulted and he was returned immediately to South Carolina after waiving extradition rights.

Harrell, according to Nashville officers, talked freely of the crime, attempting to place the blame on King, who, he said, shot the major without warning. King, on the other hand, asserted Harrell was the moving spirit in the plot, the police said. Major McLeary had passed the two men on the road and asked them to ride with him, according to the confessions.

Later Harrell admitted the police said, that his Nashville story was false and substantiated King's confession.
Following the bringing of Harrell to South Carolina warrants were issued charging King and Harrell with the murder of Major McLeary.

National Jewelry Company President Sought by Creditors

(By the Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Dec. 5.—Jacob W. Usland, president of the National Jewelry Co., of St. Louis and the Milton Watch Co., of New York which went into bankruptcy last week, has disappeared from St. Louis and creditors here and in New York with claims of $600,000 or more, are endeavoring to find him, officers announced today.
Alleged operations of Usland today has put the Trauss Jewelry Co., and probably will put two other small wholesale jewelry dealers into bankruptcy within a few days, according to New York representatives of the National Jewelers' Board of Trade who have been here a week investigating the situation.

TIGERS IN TUNE FOR CAGE MEETS

Milam in Capital Working Out Schedule for Year in Basketball

East Central is preparing for its popular winter sport, basketball, and especially for the opening of the season next month.
Coach Joe Milam is in Oklahoma City today in meeting with the officials of the Oklahoma Collegiate conference for the purpose of working out a schedule for the coming game season and the adoption of rules to affect the teams of the conference.
The membership of the conference will be extended to two more teams this year, making a total membership of ten teams in the circuit. Tulsa university and Northwestern Teachers are the two teams to be included in the schedule this year.

The schedule of play for the season will be on the round robin basis as adopted last year, which provides every team in the state with two games with every other team one at home and one away from home.
In order to curtail the expenses of teams away on trips northern teams will probably play three games in this section, one at Shawnee with the Baptists, one at Ada with East Central and one at Durant with Southeastern. On the other hand Phillips, Northwestern and Southwestern are logical points for southern teams on three-game schedule, while Central, Oklahoma City college, Tulsa and Northwestern are difficult points to place on tours.

While the opening of the season has not been definitely announced its logical beginning would be scheduled for either January 2 and 3 or January 9 and 10. With the possibilities of the first dates being holidays for schools, the probability of the season opening on January 9 is seen by Coach Joe Milam.
Before attending the conference at Oklahoma City, Coach Milam drew up a schedule of play on the round robin basis, which he will present for the consideration of the officials.

Milam is pleased with the material at hand at the College gym, which he hopes to mould into a winning team this season. Workouts on the court will continue until the holidays.

TWO MILLION DAMAGES IN SEIGE OF WINTER

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Interruption in telegraph and telephone communication and more than 2000 broken poles in Nebraska and Iowa and delayed trains in the west central states were the results of the first snow and sleet storm of the winter, which was moving north and east today.
The fury of the elements was abating in the sections where damage estimated at more than two million dollars, was done and forecasts were that the territory in the path of the storm would escape with little destruction if any.
Nebraska and Iowa were hardest hit with railroads and communication lines crippled or put out of communication for miles west of Omaha.
Weather conditions caused a delay in trains as far west as the Rocky mountain states.
A heavy snow fall in the north-west was reported today with from several inches to a foot or more in Minnesota, South and North Dakota and parts of Iowa. Sioux City had ten inches of snow in 24 hours which handicapped street car service. Sioux Falls had seven inches. States in the vicinity of Colorado were buried under several inches of snow. Walsenberg, Col., having 18 inches.

KENNAMER SLAMS HARD TERMS FOR DEFENDANTS HERE

Two Women Included in List Of Victims in Booze Sentences

TEN YEAR SENTENCE

Court May Last Through Early Part of Next Week

The federal court term before Judge E. F. Kennamer will last until Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, attaches of the court announced here today.
Two banking cases are scheduled to appear on the docket next week to follow the disposal of cases on the criminal docket here this week.
The third day of the criminal session here today saw no reprieve from the rapid fire method of dealing justice to the horde of defendants on charge of violation of the National Prohibition Act.
With the county jail here cleared for another influx of prisoners thru the transportation of those already sentenced to Muskogee, the court was prepared today to add to the list of members of the federal jail family at Muskogee.
Hancock Case Passed
The case of Judd Hancock, Ardmore man charged with white slavery in connection with the alleged transportation of a girl from Ardmore to Texas for the purpose of commercial prostitution was again passed after it has successively escaped trial at Ardmore and Chickasaw terms of federal court.
In the case of Jack Gilley and Monty McCarty, charged with bringing a stolen automobile from Wichita Falls, Texas, to Ardmore, Judge Kennamer deferred action until tomorrow morning. Gilley, a youngster, appeared before Judge Kennamer and admitted his implication in the alleged theft but refused to divulge names of other parties when asked by Judge Kennamer if he was accompanied by others on the return trip to Ardmore.
The mother of the accused boy appeared before Judge Kennamer and made a mother's appeal for leniency on the charge.
Woman is Found Guilty
In the opening of federal court this morning, the case of Annie High was brought before the court for trial on a prohibition charge. Despite the fact that the defendant was a woman, the jury deliberated only a few minutes to return a verdict of guilty. Her sentence was acted on by Judge Kennamer and she was included in the number of prisoners transported to the federal jail at Muskogee.
V. C. Paul, charged with larceny of an interstate shipment, drew the heaviest penalty of the court term, when he was found guilty by a jury and sentenced to ten years imprisonment at Leavenworth.
The following prohibition cases were arraigned: Deb Rains found guilty by jury and fined $250 in each of two counts; Annie High convicted by jury and sentenced to 60 days in jail on third count, fined $100 on first count and dismissed on second count; Woody Stuard pleaded not guilty; Martin Carr pleaded not guilty and sentenced to 20 days in jail; Walter Trover pleaded not guilty on two counts; Frankie Tucker pleaded not guilty; R. A. Self pleaded guilty on three counts and was sentenced to 60 days and fined $100 and $25 on counts two and three; D. H. Mitchell's bond forfeited; Homer Hart fined $500 on plea of guilty; R. B. Wolf fined $25 on plea of guilty; Alice Boyken's bond forfeited; Ella Scott pleaded not guilty; C. M. Rodman pleaded not guilty; B. C. McKinney's case passed; E. Kilpatrick fined $200; Joe Cohen passed until Monday; Alex Messer pleaded guilty to three counts and was fined $300; John Simmons fined $75; Horace Simmons fined $100; Robert Roland fined $500 on plea of guilty.
GROVE, OKLA., Dec. 5.—A man believed to be J. L. Dodson, who escaped a few days ago from the state hospital at Vinita was found dead by the roadside 10 miles north of here late yesterday. A coroner's jury declared he came to his death from unknown causes. The body bore no marks of violence.

Hunter Protected by Armored Suit Tells of Battle with Wolves

Details of one of the strangest experiments in the history of animal hunting are related by Stanley Clarkson, of St.

Paul, Minn., who spent a winter in the Canadian wilderness seeking "hand to hand" combats with hungry timber wolves. Dressed in an armor made of heavy leather studded with 1,200 needle-sharp steel spikes, he invited attacks from wolf packs while armed only with a short double-bladed ax and a hunting knife.
Although handicapped by an exceptionally open winter and an unusually large number of wild rabbits, which kept the wolves from suffering from hunger, he killed a number of the beasts with his ax. During a snowstorm on Steep Rock Lake, north of Atikokan, he was set upon by five timber wolves. He killed two of them and wounded a third. The wolves seized the hunter's arms and legs in their jaws, but could not do him injury because of the protruding spikes of the armored suit, which is made of specially sawed thick cowhide that will turn water and will not harden from rain or snow.
There also is a helmet and heavy wire mask that can be raised to protect the

Non-Freezing Water Dish for the Poultry

A non-freezing water dish for the poultry is a necessity in late fall and winter, and it is a very simple matter to make
one. As shown in the drawing, a pit is dug in the ground or poultry-house floor, to a depth sufficient to accommodate the lamp it is intended to use, and lined with concrete, the concrete extending upward to a height of about 10 in. above the ground. Through one wall, a pipe fitted with two elbows and a long nipple is placed, while the opposite wall carries a short pipe that merely extends outside,
although it may be fitted with an elbow with the outlet turned down. The outside elbows prevent dirt from being scratched into the pit. Over the opening is placed a tight-fitting wooden cover,
in which a hole is cut to fit the drinking pan snugly. The heating element is an old incubator lamp. A very small flame will keep the water warm even in zero weather. Fresh air follows the long pipe to the bottom of the pit and the hot air
and gases pass out of the short pipe.

There is room enough on the platform for a number of fowls, but, because of the height of the pan above the floor, no litter can be tossed into the water.

From an 8-ounce package of Sudan grass seed sent to this country from Khartoum in 1904, which is now a $10,000-600 acre crop has been produced in the West.

Aerial Kinks

It is often quite a problem how to attach a pulley to the top of the aerial mast properly, especially if it is made of pipe.
An excellent method of doing this is shown in the illustration. The end of the pipe is threaded and a floor flange with a hole drilled through it is screwed on; it is then an easy matter to attach the pulley to the flange.

Another trouble frequently experienced is that the bridle breaks where it is tied to the rope or the rope itself breaks near this point, and both aerial and rope then come down, making it necessary to "shin" the pole to thread the rope through the pulley again. To prevent this trouble a small piece of pipe or other metal weight should be tied to the end of the rope, as shown, so that the rope cannot slip through the pulley but can be lowered and then tied to the bridle again.

Remedy for Overheating Bearings

Persistent overheating of bearings that are in constant duty may be overcome by applying a paste of flour of sulphur mixed with lubricating oil. This permits the use of an oil cup. The mixture will also be found useful on heavy-duty bearings in car rolls and similar machine parts.

Oil the rocker arms on overhead-valve motors at least every two days. This takes only a moment and prevents wear

Arthur Hohl, the featured player

during the past season as one of the finest actors on Broadway.
Portraying difficult character roles

he is a master at the art of make up.

Although normally a handsome

it for the stage production and William Fox, seeing his work, insisted on having him play in the film version. In this coming picture he plays his original two stage roles and one other besides, all three calling for difficult and startling changes of make-up. At the start of the action he is fine,

Hollanders Rally to Side of Disarmament Advocates

THE HAGUE, Holland.—If the dramatic applause that greeted Professor Van Embden's recent antimilitaristic address is any indication of the general feeling of the country
the people of the Netherlands may be said to be virtually solid for disarmament.

The spokesman for the abolition of the army and navy met General Snyders, formerly commander in chief of the Dutch army, at a public debate before a packed audience in the biggest assembly hall of the Dutch royal residence. Thousands of people belonging to all classes of society eagerly followed the arguments on both sides. A battery of sound amplifiers had been installed for the benefit of a multitude outside which had been crowded out.

Both speakers agreed that despite the Geneva convention the menace of war had not been wholly lifted from the world and they announced Holland's position in the event-uality of another great war in the light of the fact that the country had miraculously escaped from being dragged into the last world conflict. How could Holland's future safety be best insured, they asked.

By total disarmament, the professor argued. Never by disarmament but only by adequate preparation to keep the enemy out, declared
the general.

Professor Van Embden made his Van Embden made his audience shudder by recounting the horrors of gas warfare, citing reports by Brigadier General Amos Alfred Fries, chief of the American Chemical Warfare

service, Major General William Luther Sibert and General M. Bliss. "If the next war finds us an armed nation, we shall be utterly and irre-trievably lost," he declared.

General Snyders agreed that Holland coveted nothing, and that the next war could never be an aggressive one as far as Holland was concerned. He pointed out that Holland was an agricultural, not an industrial country, and therefore ill equipped for the production of warlike material. As to gas warfare, his opinion was that it had come to stay, and timely defensive precautions were essential. He said that injuries by gas were not necessarily more horrible than those produced by red-hot shell splinters. How, he demanded, could the country be saved from being overrun by a belligerent unless it possessed the means of resisting encroachments.

Prospects of further heavy military expenditure, as foreshadowed in the budget estimates, had not missed their effects on the audience.
General Snyders' appeal for preparation was punctuated with shouts of "No more money for war!" and the end of his speech was drowned in tumult. The meeting broke up with the audience singing anti-militaristic songs.

BERLIN PEDESTRIANS CONTINUE JAY WALKING

BERLIN.—Berlin is having a hard time putting through its new traffic regulations, which for the most part are patterned upon American models. In fact this capital, in which cabinet crises are so frequent as to be uninteresting, is now developing what may be termed a traffic crisis. Next to campaign against the discussion pro and con of the new regulations for vehicles and pedestrians occupies most space
in the daily press.

The difficulty seems to be twofold: First, the lack of discipline of the pedestrian, and second, the unorganized admixture of pushcarts,
autos, electric cars, busses, bicycles,
and horse drawn vehicles in the streets.

The Berlin pedestrian regards it as his inalienable right to cross the street wherever and however he pleases. He will throw himself into the confused jumble of vehicles of every description in the middle of the street intersection. Until the German can be taught to bow to the same rules when he is out walking as govern his progress when he is riding, the enforcement of traffic regulations will be rendered illusory.

DURANT—W. R. Crowder, local greener, acted as his own attorney in a civil suit in the district court here and won his case. He was being sued for payments on a phonograph. The jury upheld his contention that the machine came C.O.
D. in bad condition.

PICTURE COMING HAS BIG THEME

Every man has one real love in his lifetime, and it is the portrayal of such a love that is the theme of "The Lover of Camille" coming next week to the McSwain Theatre beginning Monday. This is the screen adaptation, by arrangement with David Belasco, of the Sacha Guitry play, "Deburau." Monte Blue plays Deburau and opposite him is Marie Prevost, as the Lady of the Camille.

There is a distinguished supporting cast in this Warner Bros. Classic of the screen. It includes Willard, Winifred Bryson, Pierre Gendron, Brandon Hurst and Carlton Miller.

A wise man once said that a man could be infatuated many times, but he could have but one love. If a man loves a woman she might sink to the lowest depths of the social ladder and his love for her would remain unaltered. She could be a Cleopatra, his love would never leave. In Marie Prevost we find a Cleopatra who does not return the love of Deburau, the perfect lover.
She does not know what true love
is. She is coldbloodedly unfaithful and deliberately mercenary. She blindly trifles with other men. She stays with him only until she realizes that he is poor and cannot give her the luxuries she craves. Then she turns her attention to Armand Duval. Brokenhearted, Deburau goes on with his work with the thought ever foremost in his mind that one day his Marie would return to him.

The picture faithfully follows the action of the play

PAWHUSKA—Thousands of cattle from the Texas ranges have been shipped into Oklahoma and

West Africans Like Whale Meat

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON.—Canned cuts of whale meat are considered a great delicacy in West Africa, according to the Board of Trade Journal.
Practically the whole of the whale
meat canned in British Columbia
last year was sold among the settlements between Liberia and the Congo.

West Africa has thus solved the problem of finding a market for whale meat after the oil has been extracted, for whale steak has become a really popular viand in that part of the world.

Pimples

You will be startled how quickly and thoroughly you can stop skin eruptions and beautify your complexion with S. S. S.

PIMPLES are the first thing one notices in another person's face.
It is too often cruel in its misjudgment. It judges from what it sees on the outside. Pimples are easy to get rid of. More red-cells! That is what you need when you see pimples starting at you in the mirror. Red-cells mean clear, pure, rich blood. They mean clear, ruddy, lovable complexions. They mean nerve power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from blackhead pest, from boils, from eczema and skin eruptions; from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us.
S. S. S. will aid Nature in building them for you! S. S. S. has been known since 1826 as one of the greatest blood-builders, blood-cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced.
Start taking S. S. S. today. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vege-

HOOVER WITHDRAWS SUPPORT OF RADIO LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, DEC. 4.—Secretary Hoover has withdrawn his support from the legislation pending in Congress for full federal legislation of radio.

In a letter today to Chairman White of the house merchant marine committee, Mr. Hoover suggested that at the present time Congress should only amend the present statutes giving commerce department a decree of control over wireless communication.

CRIMINAL COURT TO PASS VERDICT

Appeal of Stratford, Banker Offers Court New Jurisdiction

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 5.—Friends of Allen Snoddy, convicted cashier of the State Bank of Stratford, who confessed to taking more than $17,000 from the bank, are awaiting with interest the verdict of the state criminal court of appeals, which has before it Snoddy's appeal from the Garvin county district court. Snoddy was sentenced to 10 years in the state penitentiary and fined $500.

Snoddy, young and well known in Stratford and vicinity, was arrested early in 1923, after a bank inspector had discovered a shortage in the institution's funds. In the presence of Mac Q. Williamson, county attorney, now state senator, and a bank inspector, Snoddy is said to have confessed spending $11,000 of it for a home in Stratford and for furnishings. Two thousand dollars went into an 80-acre farm near Stratford, and $3,000 was invested in refinery stock, he told the prosecutor and inspector, according to the evidence. The remainder was spent for incidentals, he said. The alleged defalcations extended over a period of four years, the record indicates Snoddy said.

At the trial Snoddy demurred, contending the alleged confession was obtained under duress. He was, however, found guilty.

Snoddy is married and has two children. He is free under bond.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 5.—The opinion of the criminal court of appeals in the Allen Snoddy appeal will establish a precedent for further prosecution under the state banking laws, according to attorneys for the banking department. It offers the first opportunity for the appellate court to interpret the criminal phases of the banking law.

OLD COWBOY WAS HERE BEFORE ADA STARTED

Long white beard and cowboy hats are very striking when seen on the same fellow. Today this particular instance occurred on the streets of Ada and the odds of it drew the attention of people about town. An interview proved him to be an old time settler of this place, J. C. Mullins, or as he put it "I was here before Ada was." He came here with Jeff Reed whose daughter was honored by this little city as a namesake. He says, "Jeff is a big town man now and I'm just around here." He has spent several years at Stuart and Centrahoma since he first came here, but lives here with one of his daughters now. His wife died last spring. He has four children. His occupation was farming. He is now 85 years of age and just a boy still wearing his cowboy hat.

ROCK HILL, Dec. 5.—The bodies of Mrs. Frank Simpson, 28, and J. T. Cornwell, 34, were found today in an automobile parked on the highway about two miles from Rock Hill.

The woman was shot through the body and Cornwell, in whose hand was found a revolver, was shot through the head.

Police express the opinion that this was a case of murder and suicide. Mrs. Simpson is survived by her husband and several children. Cornwell was a widower but left two children and his mother, with whom he was living.

Vice Consul Slain By Belgrade Woman Reports Declare

(By the Associated Press)

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Dec. 5.—Henry Dayton, American vice-consul here was shot and seriously wounded yesterday at his home by a young woman, who afterwards committed suicide by opening the veins in her fore arm.

The shooting occurred during an interview between Vice Consul Dayton and the woman, Ann Ousouptals. During the interview, according to reports, the vice consul is said to have told the young woman that their friendship must cease, whereupon she fired three revolver shots, which entered the vice consul's neck, and then committed suicide. Dayton's condition is said to be very serious.

The affair has created a sensation in the diplomatic body throughout the city.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The state department lacked reports today on the shooting of Vice Consul Henry A. Dayton. He had only recently been assigned to Belgrade having been transferred to that post from Kovno, Lithuania.

The victim was born in Atlanta, Ga., in 1897 and graduated from the Auburn high school in New York and from Hamilton College in 1917. He served in the army during the world war and entered the consular service later as a clerk in the Kovno consulate. He was promoted to vice consul at Belgrade.

The pastor has returned from a great meeting at McAlester with the First Baptist church there with the revival fires burning in his soul. He hopes to see large congregations at the services next Sunday and that it will be a great day. The Sunday school begins at 9:45. Let every resident member of the church be in Sunday school as well as those friends who have always attended. The subject at the morning hour will be, "The Most Miserable Man in Ada." At the evening hour the subject will be "Throwing Stone at Jesus Christ." We hope to see people saved in these services. All people are cordially invited to attend our services.—Clyde Calhoun Morris, pastor.

At the same time Gerald Harrell was charged with being an accessory after the fact, inasmuch as he assisted his brother in the attempted escape, and was brought to Columbia on July 31.

During the trial, held at Chesterfield, S. C., the county seat of the district where the crime was committed, King attempted to shoulder the blame for the murder, though Harrell showed the greater emotion of the two. The jury, however, returned a verdict of guilty in each case, without recommendation to the mercy of the court.

This verdict by the state statutes automatically fixed the sentence at death by electrocution and sentence was accordingly pronounced, November 21 being set as the electrocution date.

Tulsa Man Gains Fifteen Pounds! KARNAK

Brings 15 Years Of Stomach Trouble To An End. Everything Else Failed.

With a gain of fifteen pounds in weight and a return to good health like he enjoyed fifteen years ago before his troubles set in, Mr. Frank D. Roles, 103 E. Brady St., Tulsa, Okla., states that Andre's sensational new treatment, Karnak, has fixed him up when he thought he would never be well again.

"Before I got Karnak food just seemed to lie in my stomach and decay instead of digesting properly, and caused such terrible cramping pains and such a sour gaseous condition that my stomach felt like it was on fire," says Mr. Roles. "Bad breath, a sluggish liver, constipation, headaches, pains in my back and kidneys, nervousness and sleeplessness and, in fact, everything seemed to be the matter with me."

"I wasted a small fortune before I found Karnak and got in the pink of condition again. This new treatment has certainly fixed me up fine. It hasn't an equal."

Try Karnak yourself! And remember—Karnak Pills are an essential and vitally important part of the Karnak treatment, especially if constipated.

Karnak is sold in Ada exclusively at Gwin & Mays and in Stonewall at Chas. Burnett's.—Adv.

Palmas Island Prospers
Despite Disputed Title
MANILA.—The Netherlands and the United States are still disputing the possession of Palmas Island, the most southerly island of the Philippine archipelago, about 150 miles south of Mindano. The Netherlands, however, are in control of the tiny speck of land, which was ceded to the United States by Spain under the treaty of Paris. The affairs of the island are administered by the government of Java, and excellent progress has been made in the establishment of schools and the building of roads.

Farm Column

Poultry in Oklahoma
Oklahoma farmers raised in 1920, 11,932,584 chickens. In 1910, only 8,500,000 chickens were reported as being on farms; this, an increase of practically 3,500,000 chickens. Even between the years 1919 and 1920, there was reported an increase of approximately 800,000 fowls. These data, increasing as they are, tends to make us believe that Oklahoma will soon rank with some of the top poultry states, inasmuch as our climate and crops are adaptable to poultry raising. Delaware probably leads all states in the number of farms reporting poultry with a percent of 96.1 of all their farms. Oklahoma had 63 chickens per farm reporting in the year 1920.

The estimated number of chicken eggs produced on farms in 1920 was 45,500,000 dozens, carrying a total value of approximately $16,000,000. In a way of showing the increase between 1919 and 1920, the value of eggs for that year was estimated at $7,000,000. While Oklahoma does not near rank with states producing over 100,000,000 dozens of eggs yearly, she is steadily assuming more interest in the industry and will, before many years, hold a proud rank.

Since Oklahoma has permanently established herself as an agricultural state, a proud rank has been maintained for many years. In 1919, Oklahoma ranked eighth in the value of all crops; in 1923, thirteenth. This position will no doubt be materially raised at the close of the present year. It is almost a certain fact that Oklahoma will hold second position to Texas among the southern states for the 1924 crop season. —J. A. Whitehurst.

Ripe Strawberries
I have always held that a combination of the natural resources and climate of Oklahoma with plenty of elbow grease intelligently applied, is one that is hard to beat. Now comes Henry Neal of Portland Park with ripe strawberries on the fourth day of December. In fact, he brought to the News office blooms, green berries and ripe ones.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal are a fine example of what hustlers can do. When Mr. Neal left the army he had nothing but today they have a nice little place of their own and, are making good. Mr. Neal works on the railroad but he finds time to raise a wonderful lot of truck for which he gets a good price.

During the past season Mrs. Neal canned 400 quarts of strawberries, preserves, blackberries, jam, plums, peaches, pears, apples, grapes, dewberries, tomatoes, jelly, pickles and various vegetables. No danger of that family having to ask credit at the grocery store for a little meal and bacon. They will have some good eating the entire year.

They grew 600 quarts of strawberries in the spring for which they received from 25 to 40 cents per quart. The fall crop brought 50 cents because few people grow strawberries at that time of the year.

They had a fair sized cabbage patch on which they grew 1,000 pounds of cabbage. They also cultivated an acre of tomatoes from which they sold 1,500 pounds at a fair price.

It is only fair to say that much of the stuff was irrigated, but even with that it required a lot of work to make such a crop. Even under ordinary conditions it is safe to say that the Neals would have come out ahead of the game.

Pressure Cookers in Pott County
Pressure cooking demonstrations among the Pottawatomie county club women are contesting the terraced demonstrations in demand according to the local office of the county demonstrator. Especially adapted to the cooking of meats and at the time of year when "killing time" is in progress the rural women are interested in the cooker. The local office points out the advantages of the pressure cooker saying that it is a time saver as well as economical.

A number of the country housewives have purchased the cookers. A large number of more are prospective buyers the office declared. —Shawnee News.

Care of Bees in Winter
Entomologist
(E. E. Scholl, Extension)
Winter losses of bees are the main drawback to the bee and honey industry of Oklahoma. These losses are due mainly to insufficient or improper food, exposure to extreme weather or by unnecessary disturbances.

The extension entomologist offers and will assist in carrying out, the following suggestions for winter work that will save many colonies of bees and will increase the production of honey for next season:

1. Remove supers so as to reduce space to be kept warm by clustered bees.

2. Close entrance of hive to space

TRACHOMA FIGHT IN STATE READY

Disease Causing Blindness to Indians to Be Fought
By U. S.

TULSA, Dec. 5.—The United States government has begun the preliminaries to what will be an active battle against the spread of trachoma among Indians. Trachoma is an eye disease resulting often in blindness.

Dr. H. V. Hailman, government eye and trachoma expert, has come from the department of the interior, Washington, to join with specialists here and in other cities of the state in an effort to eradicate the disease. Drs. Daniel W. White and Jeter Cope White of Tulsa have been appointed by the department as consulting ophthalmologists among the Indians of the state, and it is with them and the large committee of other specialists and laymen appointed by the Drs. White that Dr. Hailman will work.

"Trachoma is a dangerous and an infectious eye disease which causes serious impairment of vision and in many cases blindness," Dr. Hailman said.

Many thousands in Oklahoma, white persons, as well as Indians, have trachoma, Dr. Hailman said. Texas, Arkansas and Missouri have many cases of the disease, he declared. Missouri has established a trachoma hospital at Rolla and has a traveling railway clinical car in operation. The Kansas state board of health has made trachoma a reportable disease.

Dr. Daniel W. White, who was in the government health service for several years, made a survey of the Indians of Oklahoma in 1911.

The following advisory committee of Oklahomans, Texans and Kansas, has been appointed to carry on the fight:

Dr. G. A. Ball, Tulsa; Dr. Arthur V. Emerson, president of the Tulsa county medical society; Dr. John R. Riley, professor of surgery, University of Oklahoma, Oklahoma City; Dr. A. N. Blesh, professor of dermatology, University of Oklahoma, Oklahoma City; Dr. Holman Taylor, secretary, Texas state medical association, Fort Worth; Dr. Cortez A. Enloe, Missouri state commissioner of health; Dr. Milton P. Nyberg, Kansas state health commissioner; Dr. William H. Bailey, Oklahoma City; Dr. Felix Adams, director Oklahoma state hospital, Vinita; the Rev. L. L. Brannon, Tulsa; Bishop Francis L. Kelley, Oklahoma City; Supt. J. George Wright, Indian agency, Pawhuska; Supt. Shade Wallen, Indian agency, Muskogee. An advisory sub-committee of prominent Indians will be named.

of 3-8 inch to retain warmth and to keep out mice, etc.

3. Place hives, facing south, with wind protection on north and northwest. (Ever-green wind break, board fence or board lean-to will help.)

4. Have ground of alary with southern slope for good drainage if possible and place hives near trees so shade will offer protection next summer.

5. If honey stores are less than four full frames in brood chamber, supply frames of high grade honey or fill combs with sugar syrup on warm day when bees are not clustered. Colony should have about forty pounds of honey or syrup to go thru winter and for early brood rearing in spring. (Make sugar syrup by dissolving equal parts of white granulated sugar and warm water by volume, and pour into cells, holding frames at a slant over tub or other container.)

6. Wrap hives with newspapers to retain the warmth of the cluster of bees. (See illustrations, Bulletin No. 48, mailed to you.)

7. Store hive bodies and supers in protected place. Add a few ounces of paradichlorobenzene to boxes containing stored frames of combs.

8. Keep hogs and other farm animals from knocking hives over.

9. Avoid loss of bees and equipment by winter fires by removing all weeds, grass and other trash from about bee hives.

10. Secure copies of Oklahoma Extension Circular No. 106, and U. S. Farmers' Bulletins Nos. 695, 1012 and 1198, and be prepared for the spring work.

Four Legionnaires Of Oklahoma Named To National Tasks

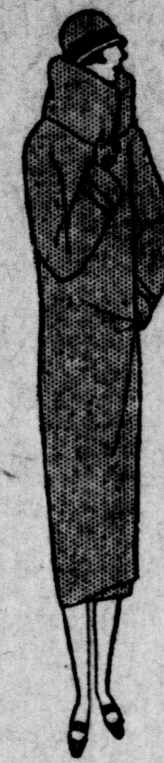

CHICKASHA, Dec. 5.—Appointment of four Oklahomans to position on important national committees of the American Legion was announced here today by J. F. Hatcher, state commander of the American Legion.

E. K. Birby, editor of the Muskogee Phoenix was made chairman of the committee on Americanization consisting of 18 members. H. B. Davis of Bartlesville became one of the 18 members of the Legion Committee. Col. Hugh Scott, director of the veterans hospital at Muskogee was appointed on the advisory board consisting of 12 members and Gen. Ray Hoffman of Oklahoma City was re-appointed a representative to the Fidac organization for promotion of world peace.

"Oklahoma has done well in having such representatives on the national committee," Commander Hatcher said.

OKLAHOMA CITY — In five years, since the transfer of the Oklahoma City university from Guthrie to Oklahoma City, the attendance has increased from 186 to 1,000, according to the board of education of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

College Notes

President Linscheid of the Teachers College has been a busy man in the last two weeks. So many calls have come from all parts of the College district for speeches that he has been kept traveling almost constantly.

During the last two weeks he has delivered addresses at the following places:

Wapanucka, community meeting.
Okmulgee, Chamber of Commerce banquet.
Morris, community meeting.
Beggs, community banquet.
Beggs, community meeting.
Pauls Valley, Rotary Club.
Pauls Valley, county teachers meeting.
Shawnee, Lions Club.
Shawnee, city teachers meeting.

Tonight he goes to Coalgate to address the Coal County Teachers association, and next week-end he speaks to the Seminole County Teachers Association at Wewoka. Thursday evening, and to the Creek County Teachers Association at Sapulpa Friday afternoon and evening.

At the Wewoka meeting Clyde C. Clack of the College will give an illustrated talk. Being an excellent rapid fire artist, Mr. Clack illustrates his talk by drawing pictures as he speaks. Clack's talks never fail to please; they are "something different."

At the same meeting Miss Bess Shaulis of the department of expression will give a series of readings. Miss Shaulis is receiving calls from all parts of the district for readings. She won a place as a dramatic reader of great power at the meeting of the East Central District association and since that meeting, teachers everywhere in the district are anxious to secure her services at community meetings and at professional gatherings.

Mr. Herring of the department of Rural Education has spent the greater part of this week in Pottawatomie county inspecting rural schools applying for model certificates. He states that there is no county in the district in which there is greater interest in the improvement of rural schools than in Pottawatomie county. He speaks very highly of the zeal and energy of Miss Robinson, the county superintendent. Mr. Herring states that there will be at least fifty schools in Pottawatomie county this year which will reach the standard of efficiency set for model schools.

A play entitled, "The Fairies' Child," rendered under the direction of Miss Bess Shaulis of the Teachers College, was given in the college auditorium Thursday night, December 4th. Twelve children were in the play, and each one did his part well.

The story of the play goes that one midsummer's eve the Queen of the fairies has to grant any request that is made of her. Trudie, the woodcutter's daughter has strayed into the woods to find her Fairy Queen. Her brother had been stolen from home when he was a baby. While she is hiding behind a bush she hears the Fairy Princess tell Thistlekin that he is not a real fairy, but the woodcutter's son, and Trudie asks the Fairy Queen to have the child returned to their home. The Queen grants the request.

The cast was:
Trudie — Janet Souder
Thistlekin — Jene Bedford
The Fairy Queen — Paula Waits
The Fairy Princess — Elizabeth Ann Wilson
Mosskin — William Schult
The Woodcutter's Wife — John Bedford
The Fairies: Virginia McCormick,

Susie Chapman, Frances Powell, Pauline Robinson, Georgia Welch.

The East Central State Teachers college band, under the direction of A. C. Montin, will make the first tour of the season beginning next Monday. The band will make the following points: Purcell, Davis, Sulphur, Mill Creek, Tishomingo, Coalgate and Tupelo.

Later in the year the band plans to make a tour through the northern part of the district. The band has recently been honored by the program committee of the State Teachers Association, which has invited them to play in the general session of the State Teachers meeting in February.

The Educational Club of the Teachers College met Thursday night, December 4th. The attendance was good, and everyone present enjoyed the program. Mr. Wilson delivered an excellent address on "The Relationship of the Library to the Institution," and President Linscheid delivered an address on "Educational Tendencies at the Present Time."
